

Groovy News!

By the week's end we had the entire class back at school again! Thank you for helping our classroom to stay healthy! This week we had a chance to learn about Martin Luther King Jr. and wrote about how we can help the world be a better place. These are posted in the classroom. Please take time to read them. We discussed that Jesus loves us for what is on our inside and that is a good model for how we can be better friends to others. During math this week we worked through our unit which reviewed calendar concepts and continued to review the concepts of addition and time. In Phonics this week we practiced sounding out words to read, along with learning about Mr. Super Silent E! We continued to learn about complete sentences (including subject and verb) during grammar. We learned how to use adjectives in our sentences during our writing lessons to help us write super sentences. Daniel in the Lion's Den was our Bible this week as we learned that it is important to stand up for God and what you believe in.
