

Groovy News!

This week during Language Arts time our vocabulary, writing, reading, and grammar learning focused around snakes! We learned all about them and then wrote and illustrated our own book! They should come home next week. In math we began our unit on simple fractions and celebrated the 100th day of school with many different activities. We compared, wrote, built, and counted! Phew! Culture is the topic of our new unit in social studies. This week we learned what culture means and discussed all the different things that make up a culture. We also learned new sight words, new phonograms, and worked on lots of phonemic awareness activities! Praying you all have a great weekend!
